Symposium Course Description and Objectives

The Ronald J Redden Symposium on Office-Based Anesthesia will focus on the important topic of office-based anesthesia, which has specific interest to the OMS, dental anesthesiologist, other dental providers, and all office-based anesthesia providers. As office-based anesthesia once again becomes a focus of attention, speakers from surgical pain management, dental anesthesiology, and medical anesthesiology backgrounds will address the evaluation of patients for office-based anesthesia, common medical and airway intra-operative emergencies, and management of the medically complex patient.

Upon completion of this activity, the learner should be able to:

- 1) identify when a patient is or is not an appropriate candidate for office-based anesthesia
- 2) describe traditional and contemporary methods and medication for sedation and anesthesia in the pediatric, adult and elderly populations
- 3) detect and manage anesthesia emergencies and airway complications in the pediatric and adult patient populations.
